1. Claims 1-5 are presented for examination.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(a) Claim 1, it is not clear what the instruction buffer register reads (instruction address or instruction).

(b) Claim 1, it is not clear what instructions are pre-read after the conditional branch instruction (next in line or the branched target).

(c) Claim 1, it is not clear what is the utility of reading the second (of the two) instruction.

(d) Claim 1, there is an inconsistent use of "read" and "pre-read" for instructions to be pre-read as dictated by the reading amount register.

(e) Claim 1, it is not clear what is the unnecessary reading and why the unnecessary reading was present and can be waived. (The need for pre-reading (pre-fetching) two instructions in the prior art and in the present invention is not clear.)

(f) Claim 4, the same as (a) to (e).

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
